UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
CENTRAL DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

MID-CENTURY INSURANCE COMPANY A/S/O PAUL LANG AND

Plaintiff,

v.
ELECTROLUX HOME PRODUCTS,
INC., AND DOES 1-10,

Defendant.

) Case No. 2:15-cv-9687-DSF-FFMx
) Honorable Dale S. Fischer
) AGREED CONFIDENTIALITY ORDER
) Trial Date: May 9, 2017

A party to this action has moved that the Court enter an Agreed Confidentiality Order. The Court has determined that the terms set forth herein are appropriate to protect the respective interests of the parties, the public, and the Court. Accordingly, it is ORDERED:

1. Scope. All materials produced in the course of discovery, including initial disclosures, responses to discovery requests, deposition testimony and exhibits, and information derived directly therefrom (hereinafter collectively "documents"), shall be subject to this Order concerning Confidential Information as defined below. This Order is subject to the Local Rules of Court and the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure on matters of procedure and calculation of time periods.

2. Confidential Information. As used in this Order, "Confidential Information" means: (a) information protected from disclosure by statute; (b)

1 information that reveals trade secrets; (c) research, development, technical, commercial 2 or financial information that the party has maintained confidential, including information 3 related to proprietary licensing, distribution, marketing, product analyses, design, and 4 manufacturing; (d) medical information concerning any individual; (e) personal identity 5 information; or (f) personnel or employment records of a person who is not a party to the 6 case. Information or documents that are available to the public may not be designated as 7 Confidential Information.

8 3. Designation.

9 (a) A party may designate a document as Confidential Information for 10 protection under this Order by placing or affixing the words "CONFIDENTIAL - 11 SUBJECT TO AGREED CONFIDENTIALITY ORDER" on the document and on all 12 copies in a manner that will not interfere with the legibility of the document. As used in 13 this Order, "copies" includes electronic images, duplicates, extracts, summaries or 14 descriptions that contain the Confidential Information. The marking "CONFIDENTIAL - 15 SUBJECT TO AGREED CONFIDENTIALITY ORDER" shall be applied prior to or at 16 the time of the documents are produced or disclosed. Applying the marking 17 "CONFIDENTIAL - SUBJECT TO AGREED CONFIDENTIALITY ORDER" to a 18 document does not mean that the document has any status or protection by statute or 19 otherwise except to the extent and for the purposes of this Order. Any copies that are 20 made of any documents marked "CONFIDENTIAL - SUBJECT TO AGREED 21 CONFIDENTIALITY ORDER" shall be also be so marked, except that indices, 22 electronic databases or lists of documents that do not contain substantial portions or 23 images of the text of marked documents and do not otherwise disclose the substance of 24 the Confidential Information are not required to be marked.

25 (b) A party may designate a document as Confidential Information only after 26 review of the document by an attorney or a party appearing pro se who has in good faith 27 determined that the document contains Confidential Information as defined in this order.

28 ///

1           4. Depositions.

2           Unless all parties agree on the record at time the deposition testimony is taken, all 3 deposition testimony taken in this case shall be treated as Confidential Information for a 4 period of fourteen days after the conclusion of the deposition. No later than the 5 fourteenth day after the conclusion of the deposition, a party may serve a Notice of 6 Designation to all parties of record as to specific portions of the testimony that are 7 designated Confidential Information, and thereafter those portions identified in the Notice 8 of Designation shall be protected the terms of this Order. The failure to serve a timely 9 Notice of Designation shall waive any designation of testimony taken in that deposition 10 as Confidential Information.

11           5. Protection of Confidential Material.

12           (a) General Protections. Confidential Information shall not be used or 13 disclosed by the parties, counsel for the parties or any other persons identified in 14 subparagraph (b) for any purpose whatsoever other than to prepare for and to conduct 15 discovery and trial in this action, including any appeal thereof.

16           (b) Limited Third-Party Disclosures. The parties and counsel for the 17 parties shall not disclose or permit the disclosure of any Confidential Information to any 18 third person or entity except as set forth in subparagraphs (1)-(6). Subject to these 19 requirements, the following categories of persons may be allowed to review Confidential
 20 Information;

21           (1) Counsel. Counsel for the parties and employees of counsel who have 22 responsibility for the preparation and trial of the action;

23           (2) Parties. Individual parties and employees of a party but only to the 24 extent counsel determines in good faith that the employee's assistance is reasonably 25 necessary to the conduct of the litigation in which the information is disclosed;

26           (3) The Court and its Personnel;

27           (4) Court Reporters and Recorders. Court reporters and recorders 28 engaged for depositions;

(5) Contractors. Those persons specifically engaged for the limited purpose of making copies of documents or organizing or processing documents;

(6) Consultants and Experts. Consultants, investigators, or experts employed by the parties or counsel for the parties to assist in the preparation and trial of this action but only after such persons have completed the certification contained in Attachment A, Acknowledgment of Understanding and Agreement to Be Bound; and

(7) Witnesses at Depositions. During their depositions, witnesses in this action to whom disclosure is reasonably necessary. Witnesses shall not retain a copy of documents containing Confidential Information, except witnesses may receive a copy of all exhibits marked at their depositions in connection with review of the transcripts.

Pages of transcribed deposition testimony or exhibits to depositions that are designated as Confidential Information pursuant to the process set out in this Order must be separately bound by the court reporter and may not be disclosed to anyone except as permitted under this Order; and

(8) Others by Consent. Other persons only by written consent of the producing party or upon order of the Court and on such conditions as may be agreed or ordered.

(c) Control of Documents. Counsel for the parties shall make reasonable efforts to prevent unauthorized or inadvertent disclosure of Confidential Information. Counsel shall maintain the originals of the forms signed by persons acknowledging their obligations under this Order for a period of three years after the termination of the case.

6. Inadvertent Failure to Designate. An inadvertent failure to designate a document as Confidential Information does not, standing alone, waive the right to so designate the document; provided, however, that a failure to serve a timely Notice of Designation of deposition testimony as required by this Order, even if inadvertent, waives any protection for deposition testimony. If a party designates a document as Confidential Information after it was initially produced, the receiving party, on notification of the 1 designation, must make a reasonable effort to assure that the document is treated in 2 accordance with the provisions of this Order. No party shall be found to have violated 3 this Order for failing to maintain the confidentiality of material during a time when that 4 material has not been designated Confidential Information, even where the failure to so 5 designate was inadvertent and where the material is subsequently designated Confidential

6 Information.

7 7. Filing of Confidential Information. This Order does not, by itself, 8 authorize the filing of any document under seal. Any party wishing to file a document 9 designated as Confidential Information in connection with a motion, brief or other 10 submission to the Court must: (a) provisionally file the document under seal; (b) file at 11 the same time a public-record version of the document with the Confidential Information 12 excluded; and (c) move the Court for leave to file the Confidential Information under 13 seal. That sealing motion must be filed before or simultaneously with the provisional 14 filing of the Confidential Information under seal, and must be noticed for presentment 15 promptly thereafter. Any document filed under seal without such a sealing motion may 16 be stricken by the Court without notice. At the hearing on the sealing motion, the party 17 that designated the document as Confidential Information has the burden of 18 demonstrating the need for sealing. Any document served on another party and any 19 paper courtesy copy provided to the Court shall be a complete, unredacted version.

20 8. No Greater Protection of Specific Documents. No party may withhold 21 information from discovery on the ground that it requires protection greater than that 22 afforded by this Order unless the party moves for an order providing such special 23 protection.

24 9. Challenges by a Party to Designation as Confidential Information. The 25 designation of any material or document as Confidential Information is subject to 26 challenge by any party. The following procedure shall apply to any such challenge.

27 (a) Meet and Confer. A party challenging the designation of 28 Confidential Information must do so in good faith and must begin the process by

1 conferring directly with counsel for the designating party. In conferring, the challenging 2 party must explain the basis for its belief that the confidentiality designation was not 3 proper and must give the designating party an opportunity to review the designated 4 material, to reconsider the designation, and, if no change in designation is offered, to 5 explain the basis for the designation. The designating party must respond to the 6 challenge within five (5) business days.

7 (b) Judicial Intervention. A party that elects to challenge a 8 confidentiality designation may file and serve a motion that identifies the challenged 9 material and sets forth in detail the basis for the challenge. Each such motion must be 10 accompanied by a competent declaration that affirms that the movant has complied with 11 the meet and confer requirements of this procedure. The burden of persuasion in any 12 such challenge proceeding shall be on the designating party. Until the Court rules on the 13 challenge, all parties shall continue to treat the materials as Confidential Information 14 under the terms of this Order.

15 10. Action by the Court. Applications to the Court for an order relating to 16 materials or documents designated Confidential Information shall be by motion. Nothing 17 in this Order or any action or agreement of a party under this Order limits the Court's 18 power to make orders concerning the disclosure of documents produced in discovery or 19 at trial.

20 11. Use of Confidential Documents or Information at Trial.

21 Nothing in this Order shall be construed to affect the admissibility of any 22 document, material, or information at any trial or hearing. A party that intends to present 23 or which anticipates that another party may present Confidential information at a hearing 24 or trial shall bring that issue to the Court's and parties' attention by motion or in a pretrial
25 memorandum without disclosing the Confidential Information. The Court may thereafter 26 make such orders as are necessary to govern the use of such documents or information at 27 trial.

28 ///

1           12. Confidential Information Subpoenaed or Ordered Produced in Other 2           Litigation.

3                   (a)     If a receiving party is served with a subpoena or an order issued in 4     other litigation that would compel disclosure of any material or document designated in 5     this action as Confidential Information, the receiving party must so notify the designating 6     party, in writing, immediately and in no event more than three court days after receiving 7     the subpoena or order. Such notification must include a copy of the subpoena or court 8     order.

9                   (b)     The receiving party also must immediately inform in writing the party 10    who caused the subpoena or order to issue in the other litigation that some or all of the 11    material covered by the subpoena or order is the subject of this Order. In addition, the 12    receiving party must deliver a copy of this Order promptly to the party in the other action 13    that caused the subpoena to issue.

14                   (c)     The purpose of imposing these duties is to alert the interested persons 15    to the existence of this Order and to afford the designating party in this case an 16    opportunity to try to protect its Confidential Information in the court from which the 17    subpoena or order issued. The designating party shall bear the burden and the expense of 18    seeking protection in that court of its Confidential Information, and nothing in these 19    provisions should be construed as authorizing or encouraging a receiving party in this 20    action to disobey a lawful directive from another court. The obligations set forth in this 21    paragraph remain in effect while the party has in its possession, custody or control 22    Confidential Information by the other party to this case.

23           13. Challenges by Members of the Public to Sealing Orders. A party or 24    interested member of the public has a right to challenge the sealing of particular 25    documents that have been filed under seal, and the party asserting confidentiality will 26    have the burden of demonstrating the propriety of filing under seal.

27           ///

28           ///

1       14. Obligations on Conclusion of Litigation.

2               (a) Unless otherwise agreed or ordered, this Order shall remain in force 3 after dismissal or entry of final judgment not subject to further appeal.

4               (b) Within thirty days after dismissal or entry of final judgment not 5 subject to further appeal, all Confidential Information and documents marked 6 "CONFIDENTIAL - SUBJECT TO AGREED CONFIDENTIALITY ORDER" under 7 this Order, including copies as defined in 3(a), shall be returned to the producing party 8 unless: (1) the document has been offered into evidence or filed without restriction as to 9 disclosure; (2) the parties agree to destruction in lieu of return; or (3) as to documents 10 bearing the notations, summations, or other mental impressions of the receiving party, 11 that party elects to destroy the documents and certifies to the producing party that it has 12 done so. Notwithstanding the above requirements to return or destroy documents, 13 counsel may retain attorney work product, including an index which refers or relates to 14 Confidential Information designated so long as that work product does not duplicate 15 verbatim substantial portions of Confidential Information, and one complete set of all 16 documents filed with the Court including those filed under seal. Any retained 17 Confidential Information shall continue to be protected under this Order. An attorney 18 may use his or her work product in a subsequent litigation provided that its use does not 19 disclose or use Confidential Information.

20       15. Order Subject to Modification. This Order shall be subject to 21 modification by the Court on its own initiative or on motion of a party or any other 22 person with standing concerning the subject matter.

23       16. No Prior Judicial Determination. This Order is entered based on the 24 representations and agreements of the parties and for the purpose of facilitating 25 discovery. Nothing herein shall be construed or presented as a judicial determination that 26 any document or material designated Confidential Information by counsel or the parties is 27 entitled to protection under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure or otherwise until such 28 time as the Court may rule on a specific document or issue.

1       17. Persons Bound. By the signatures of counsel below, as duly authorized 2 agents of the respective Parties, this Order shall take effect under the principles of 3 contract to bind all counsel of record and their law firms, the parties, and persons made 4 subject to this Order by its terms, even in the absence of a signature by the Court to this 5 Order.
